Cumulative Author index of the Tribhuvan University Journal

Tribhuvan University (TU, established 1959) began publishing its first academic journal—Tribhuvan University Journal—in 1964. The articles in the Journal cover all the areas and disciplines of the Humanities and Social Sciences as well as Science and Technology Faculties. The Journal was in a sense the only “professional” journal published from the TU for a long period.

The Journal is supposed to be published twice a year, but it has not been regular. Till December 2017 (which is when the latest issue came out), only thirty-one volumes and thirty-seven issues have been published. It has been chiefly a bi-lingual (Nepali and English) journal, but it also has published a few articles, particularly in the early years, in Hindi and Sanskrit. Two special volumes—one on Political Science, on the occasion of Human Rights Day in 1966, and another on Linguistics in 1968/1969—have also been published.

Initially, the editorial board used to be formed for each volume of the Journal. In 1976/1977, the Research Division was set up under the Rector’s office of the TU with the following objectives: to coordinate between the research centers of TU; to strengthen the research policy of TU; and most importantly, to disseminate the information on the research activities of TU. Since then the Research Division has been publishing the Journal. The Rector is ex officio Chief Editor whereas the Chief of the Research Division is Member-Secretary of the editorial board, and other members are appointed on an ad hoc basis.

This Cumulative Author Index contains all the materials published in the thirty-one volumes of the Journal. Altogether, there were 568 articles (including editorial notes) and forty-seven book reviews published in it, out of which 108 are Nepali language articles, three are in Hindi and three are in Sanskrit. Remaining articles are published in English.
